In The Classroom

We have been continuing to meet in our small reading groups. We are currently summarizing information. Next week we will synthesize using all of our strategies to best comprehend the story we are reading.

We are still plugging away with our multiplication facts.

Many of you commented on how well your child is picking up these facts! That's great! This skill will probably be worked on until we go on winter break.

We have begun working in our Buckle Down books which will help us prepare for taking the ISATs in March.

Winter party

Our class will celebrate the winter holidays on Friday, December 21, from 1:30-2:15. I will send home a letter next week asking for people to sign up to send in treats for our party. One of our parents helping with the party will contact you to let you know what to send in.
Thanks !

Please have your student practice their multiplication flashcards at home! We are still testing + and - as well.

Have a great weekend!

It was great to meet with all of our parents for conferences. I enjoyed discussing your child's growth with you! 😊

Please check your child's homework folder each night & make sure work is completed. Thanks!
